

Not the traditional band.

Sure there's guitars, drums and singing. But our viper (electric violin) adds a nice twist. Especially for the audience.

Twin Engine has been together since 2007 and enjoys playing original music, contemporary rock and country music.

The Band

Kent
viper

The Viper is his instrument and music is his passion. Kent is our resident band director, ensuring all is right.

A fan of Mark Wood of the Trans-Siberian Orchestra, he's classically trained and a member of several orchestra's, including his high school "Rock Orchestra." Kents love is playing alternative style music with his viper, and he shows it on stage.

Twin Engine is fronted by Kent, Christopher and Justice. Other musians are added depending on the show and/or venue.

Twin Engine has the capability of providing full production and lights or perform with house equipment and is available for performances year round.

Christopher
lead guitar

Every band needs a joker. Christopher is our's. But when it comes to playing guitar, he's all business. And how about his guitar collection? He has a guitar for every occasion.

Christopher is also our band tech. In addition to playing, he enjoys figuring out how things work. If the band needs something new, different connections to get a new sound or something built, he's the one.

Justice

The band likes to call him "Clark" - because of his classes and the look of Clark Kent. But is he "super"?, you'd have to ask the girls...

As for music, Justice has been with the band since it's beginning. He brings the creative influence to round out the riffs in the new songs or the extra line in the new lyrics.
